- A very organized class! Questions were encouraged and tests/quizzes always related to what we learned that week.
- Dr. McGowan is so well organized. I love how she has clearly put a lot of thought into the structure of her lectures. Also, the speed at which information was presented was perfect. This class focuses on a very difficult topic, but the way the material was presented sparked intrigue instead of the typical "doom and gloom."
- Dr. McGowan is great. She has a way to get straight to the point and does not waste time in class. Her lectures were always well prepared and engaging, albeit the moved quite fast.
I totally enjoyed this class format - online works great for this type of class.
- I LIKE HER TEACHING. ALWAYS ENGAGING

- Professor McGowan knows what she's doing and talking about. She makes learning very easy and fun and does a wonderful job at making sure we understand all the concepts. I really enjoyed this class and definitely recommend this Professor to anyone! Thank you!
- Speak too fast, need to slow down a little bit
- This is my second semester taking Professor McGowan. She is well organized for her lectures and promotes participation by asking questions and having students respond with the chat box within Zoom. Her assignments are very manageable and she is very flexible with the assignment. I missed the second half of an essay question due to me not correctly reading it and she let me redo that section for partial credit. That would have had a strong impact on my grade but thanks to Professor McGowan's understanding it was only minimal. I haven't had many professors offer me a save like that before so I very much appreciated her for doing that. Overall this class is a good one and there is a very good professor teaching it. I would have no problem taking future classes from Professor McGowan.
- This professor encouraged participation through Zoom and provided assistance, whenever possible. Lectures were interesting and relevant to current climate conditions.
Sometimes, PowerPoint lectures were quickly discussed. Having access to Zoom recordings was helpful for notetaking.
No required textbook is always a plus.
Overall, I would recommend this professor and course to my friends.
Thank you, McGowan!
